Edward Exercit on Italian Nationality. The Roc. EDWARD EVERETT devotes a paper in the New York Ledger to a consideration of the cause of Italy and a defence of the people of that country from the charge of degeneracy so often brought against them. The following is an extract from his article.

On all the grounds of geographical position, race language, and religion, the Italiane might fairly claim to stand as an independent State, in the great family of Nations. There is really no other people in Europe, which unites in the same degree, the four great elemen's of a prosperous nationality; not either of the great contending powers whose armies now cover her soil; nor England, Prus-it, or Russis, who, with hands on their swords, are anxiously watching the progress of the struggle. What then, is wanting to the Nationality of the Italians; and how does it happen that the People, whose fore-fathers gave law to the world, have for centuries taken the law from France, from Spain, and from Germany ?

I shall attempt an answer to this important ques- PLANNELS. tion in another paper: in the meantime, I will on y observe in a few words, that the cause of this unhappy state of things is not to be sought, as is per-haps generally supposed, in the degeneracy of the people. Trusting to the hasty generalization of tourists, who pass a few weeks in the large towns and see the outside of Italian life and manners—the general poverty of the peasantry—the indolence of in high life-and the want of occupation which must exist where there is but little commerce, few manufactures, and no political career, and almost all the springs of industry feel the pressure of ar- Farnham's and Evans, Scagrave & Co.'s bitrary government, we hastily agree with them, that the people themselves must be degenerate This, however, is far from being the case. The physical development of the population in Italy, male and female, is, in the aggregate, as far as my observation has extended, quite equal to that of the population of any other part of Europe. No where are finer forms or faces to be seen in places of public or private resort. The Italians are a temperate people, and the climate allows them to live much in the open air, and this in the large towns leads to social and companionable habits, and is everywhere favorable to health. In intellect they are surely not a degenerate race. Their universities still boast accomplished men of science and distinguished scholars in all the faculties; and though the provision for popular educa-tion is in none of the Italian States to be compared with that which is made in Prussia, England and this country, it is respectable in Tuscany, Sardinia, and even Lombardy, and about equal in the other portions of the Peninsula to what it is in most parts of Europe. I attended the meetings of the Association for the Promotion of Science in Italy, which were held at Plorence in 1841. About a thousand persons were present, and it appeared to me that the discussions and the memoirs compared fairly with those of similar bodies. at which I have been present in England and this country. At the close of its meetings the entire Association was invited to dine by the Grand Duke, and conveyed in carriages at his expense to the halls where the entertainment was served Each member also received a present of a bronze medal of Galileo, with a copy in quarto of a new volume of his experiments. Every tranch of Letters, except those which can exist only under free constitutions, flourishes and has always flourished in Italy. Some of the most eminent writers, scientific and literary of the presnt day, astromers, physiologists, antiquaries, publicists, historians, poets, and writers of popular fiction, are Italians. Their muscums and libraries are unsurpassed in Europe. Italy is still the land of Art. In the highest walks of painting and sculpture she is excelled by foreigners, but there is an atmosphere of artistic culture, which still draws the foreign artist to her soil. Most of the distinguished German, English, French and American artists have studied their set in Italy. In music she still reigns supreme, or divides the empire with Germany alone. Surely it is the extreme of arrogance or ignorance to speak of such a people as de-

High Life -- A Golden Wedding.

From the New York Tribune. The great social event of the day, the marriage (or we should say, the alliance, since it is to be conducted on a royal scale of magnificence,) be-tween the Cuban millionaire, Senor O., and the fair Americaine, Miss B , is to be celebrated on or about the middle of August; first in Grace Church, to conciliate the Protestant prejudices of the bride, and afterward, with impressive display, at one of the Roman Catbolic cathedrals. This golden wedding has been postponed on account of the recent severe illness of the bridegroom, as well as to await the arrival of a one-hundred-thousand-dollar bridal present from Cuba, to be sent by the gentleman's sister to her prospective sister-in-law. So brilliant a parti, with his sixty years and his four millions of dollars, has been for more than a year the end and sim of many Fifth arenue matrons on behalf of their budding daughters, and of many Fifth avenue heiresses on their own behalf; but the ambitious hopes of these dowagers and belles have been sadly crushed by a young lady outside of their "set" portionless, perhaps, but rich in her seventeen years, her Eugenie-like features, and her tall, graceful figure, to say nothing of virgin affections. The auspicious blending of these kindred hearts dates from last New Year's day, when under the geniel influence of the season, generous Fortune led his prancing steeds, his yellow interpreter, and his golden self to the house irradiated by her presence; since which time, after a speedy and successful courtship, the ardent lover has plied the curios ty shops of Broadway for gifts worthy of his "goldentressed Adelaide." Tiffany has supplied them, to the jolly tune of six hundred thousand dollars, to wit :bracelets, brooch, carrings and head persure; one set opals and diamonds; one set emeralds and diamonds; four superb fans, darning with diamonds: six exquisite diamond hair pins; a watch and Chatclains, wonderful with coamel and diamonds; rings of fabulous splendor, and of coferus too brilliant to coumerate or imagine."

The bridal jewels par excellence, now being manufactured in Paris, are to be of pearls of rare size and dimends of pure water; and the wreath which will confine the one thousand-dollar-miracle of a nuptial well, is to be composed of orange blossoms in jewels; emerald leaves, diamond and supphire flowers, set in gold :

"The gold doth show her blessod. The sapphires mark her true;" and we may wind up with the Elizabethan item of forty elaborate dresses, to be "composed" in lavish style. After the wedding and one week of Recep tion succeeding it, instead of the usual tour, the happy pair will retire to honeymoon it in a 'pala-Fourteenth street residence, in which, with love's impatience, the fair fiancee is already installed, under the protection of her delighted parents. In the Autumn Sesor O. will introduce his bride to his own sunny land; affer which the gay capitals of Europe will be made brighter by her adventand her diamonds-so they say.

The following is an article from Hunt's Merchants' Magazine. It contains statistical information and practical suggestions which may be useful to the producers in this State: A committee of the Kentucky State Agricultural Society recommends a convention of the producers and boyers of tobacco, to be heed in Louisville, Kentucky, on the 25th of May next, which is the day fixed for awarding premiums to the growers of the best tobacco, under the auspices of the State Agricultural Society. The design is to bring produ cers and purchasers together, in order to inter change opinions. The agriculturist may learn what grades are best suited to the market and will meet the most ready sale. The Louisville Journal, speaking of the great commercial importance of the staple, says that the value of the raw tobacco exported from the United States to Great Britain. was over $3,500,000 m 1855; and during the first half of the present century, that country collected import duties on it to the enormous aggregate of over $870 000,000. The total value of our exports of tobacco in 1857 was $20, 562,772, and in 1858 amounted to $19,409,552. During the first nine months of 1857, the import revenue derived by France from it was over $25,000,000, four-fifths of which were experted from the United States. The Cyclopedia of Commerce says that tobacco, next to salt, is probably the article most consumed by men, in one form or another, but most generally in the form of fume or smoke. There is no climate in which it is not consumed, and no nationality that has not adopted it. To put down its use has equally builded legislators and meralists, and, in the words of Pope, on a higher subject, it may be said to be partaken of "by saint, by savage, and by sage." The aver-age consumption per head, of male population over eighteen years of age, in some countries, scems almost labulous. In the German States included in the operations of the Zollverein and Steurve-

Ague Cure, FOR THE SPEEDY CURE OF Intermittent Fever, or Fever and Ague, Remittent Fever, Chill Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical Headache, or Bilious Heads ache, and Bilious Fevers, indeed for the whole class of diseases originating in biliary derangement, caused by the Malaria

of miasmatic countries.

No one remedy is louder called for by the ne-cessities of the American people than a sure and safe ours for Fever and Agre. Such we are now enabled to offer, with a perfect certainty that it will eradicate the discuse, and with assurance, founded on proof, that no harm can arise from its use in any quantity. That which protects from or prevents this disorder must be of immense service in the communities where it prevails. Proceeding is better than cure, for the patient escapes the risk which he must run in violent attacks of this baleful distemper. This "Coun" expels the miasmatic poison of Feven and Agus from the system and prevents the development of the disease, if taken on the first approach of its premonitory symptoms. It is not only the best remedy ever yet dis for this class of complaints, but also the cheapest. The large quantity we supply for a dollar brings it within the reach of every body; and in bilious districts, where Fevna and Agun prevails, every body should have it and use it freely both for cure and protection. It is hoped this price will place it within the reach of all - the poor as well as the rich. A great superiority of this remedy over any other ever discovered for the speedy and certain cure of Intermittents is, that it contains no Quinine or mineral, consequently it produces no quinism or other injurious effects whatever upon the constitution. Those cured by it are left as healthy as if they had never had the disease. Fever and Ague is not alone the consequence of the minsmntic poison. A great variety of disorders arise from its irritation, among which are Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Headache, Blindness, Toothache, Earache, Catarrh, Asthma, Palpitation, Painful Affection of the Spleen, Hysterics, Pain in the Bowels, Colie, Paralysis, and Derangement of the Stomach, all of which, when originating in this cause, put on the intermittent type, or bes periodical. This "Cras" expels the poison from the blood, and consequently cures them all alike. It is an invaluable protection to immigrants and persons travelling or temperarily residing in the malarious districts. If taken occasionally or daily while exposed to the infection, that will be excreted from the system, and cannot accumulate sufficient quantity to ripen into disease. Hence it is even more valuable for protection than cure, and few will ever suffer from Intermittents, if they avail themselves of the protection this remedy

Aver's Cathartic Pills, FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their nction can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search, and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical deblity is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many farmitable and dangerous discusses. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Conferences, Hearthurn, Headache, arming from disordered stomach. Names, Indigestion, Pain in and Morbid Inaction of the Burels, Flatulescy, Loss of Appetite, Jammice, and other kindred complaints, arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions. They are an excellent alterative for the renovation of the bised and the restaration of tone and strength to the system debilitated by disease. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hourseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate discussed of the laugs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too
